WEATHER PROBABILITIES -For this section fair tonight and Trursday; little change in temperature; light northerly winds.

THE ALDERMANIC EMBROGLIO,-The deadlock in the Board of Aldermen assumed an acute stage today, and resulted in hermetically sealing that branch of the City Council against anycompany being managed by Messrs.
thing approaching a settlement of the Cresby and Lieb. Judge Nicol had thing approaching a settlement of the unfortunate issue. Each side to the struggle pose as martyrs to the other, and the deadlock is firmer than it was at mid-day July 1 This morning friends of the parties to the dispute introduce the olive brauch, while Mayor Simpson attempted to pour oil on the troubled waters.

The result, however, provid that all overtures and propositions were as use as the bombardment of a fog bank, and the impromptu conferences bore no fruit save, as stated above, the con-creting of the tangle more firmly. Mayor simpson had determined to call a meeting of Council tonight providing sort of conservative spirit was manifested among the parties to the tie-up, but being disappointed in the results concluded that no good would follow, and that a repetition of last night's scenes would ensue. Mr. Paff, President of the Common Council, was earnest in his good offices toward a settlement of the matter, and urged the acceptance of Mr. Hill's plan—css.ing a lot for President while Mr. Spinks, member from the Fourth ward, urged the adoption of that or any other plan in order to bring the trouble to an end. Messrs. Hill, J. T. Sweeney, Paff and Spinks had an informal consultation in a store on King street about eleven o'cloc# during which all sorts of propositions were formulated. But what was urked on one side was ussatisfactory to the other, and no results followed. Mr. Sweeney still favored a primary election, while Mr. Hill insisted that the quickest way to end the deadlock was to toss up a penny or draw one of two names from a hat. The consultation was contiqued until finally Mr. Hill agreed to proposition that each side name the committees and a member from one wing be elected President for one yearone half of the term—a member from Mr. Hill's side to be the first incumbent. This was demurred to and Mr. Hill offered to draw lots to decide who should be first president. This was also declined by Mr. Sweeney who said would be unfair to the three memhere who supported him were he to accep: such a plan without consulting them. Mr. Sweeney was willing to abide by a plan which met the approval of the Mayor—to allow each side to se-derstood that if he was disposed to adopt any of the plans submitted by Mr. Hill the days of the deadlock would be numbered. That gentleman, when the plans were presented to him, asked time to consider them, and in meantime it was determined to send for certain other members in order to have an interchange of opinion. About half past twelve o'clock all the Aldermen save Mr. Clark met in a law office on King presented the following proposition: It is bereby agreed that the Board of Alder

lect committees and elect a president pro

tem each meeting night. Mr. Paff fa-vored Mr. Hill's plan—to place the name of a member from each side of the chamber in a hat and draw for the position.

Mr. Sweeney would not assume the responsibility of entering into such a procedure without first consulting others. He still insisted on his plan or for a primary election. Mr. Hill then proposed that lots be drawn as to whether or not a primary election should be held. This was also declined. The quartette later called on Mr. Burke, it being un-

At is bereby agreed that the Board of Alderman appoint the Committees, each side to have the selection of one matter, and that upon the sesembling of the Board each meeting night a President shall be elected to serve for that night, whose duty shall end when the meeting adjourns, each side to have alternate nights in selecting this President.

It was also stated that a gentleman from Mr. Hill's side of the house could be chosen to preside on the first night. Mr. Marbury insisted that the lot was the best way to decide the matter and then the member who was destined to be president could name his own committees. Mr. Sweeney instited on a primary, and a spirited coilcquy was precipitated between Messrs. Marbury Burke and Sweeney. Messrs Hill, Ballenger and Marbury insisted on the adoption of the lot in order to bring the matter to a close, but Mr. Burke objected, stating that were it au affair in which he alone was concerned he would acquiesce in it, but considering the fact that he was representing a constituency he would decline the proposition. The members arose almost simultaneously and the scene was brought to a close the deadlock in the meantime being apparently more firm than ever.

Quo WARRANTO PROCEEDIVGS.— Judge A. L. Holladay, of Riebmond, and Mr. R. Walton Moore, of Fairfax, are in R chmond arranging for the trial are in R chmond arranging for the trial of an important case affecting rights in the water power of Little Falls on the Potomac. The litigation is a quo warranto proceeding in the Circuit Court of Alexandria, involving an attack on the charter of a corporation which proposes to develop the water power at Little Falls for the generation of electricity to be supplied to the District of Columbia, that corporation being made up of wealthy Philadelphians. The proceeding is in the name of the Common wealth of Virginia, but it is claimed to have been instigated by the comed to have been instigated by the com-pany, which is undertaking similar de-velopments at Great Falis, the latter fixed a special term of court for Wednesday and preparations were being for the trial, but owing to needay and preparations were being for the trial, but owing to the stokness of one of the attorneys the case, which is of considerable interest, had to be postponed till next fall. Associated with Mr. Moore and Judge Holladay in the case is Mr. D. S. Mackall, of the Washington bar. The other side is represented by Mr. J. E. Clements, commonwealth's attorney for Alexandria monwealth's attorney for Alexandria county and Mr. A. W. Armstrong and Mr. C C. Carlin, of this city.

REPORT ACCEPTED .- Mr. L. R. Graybill, Acting City Engineer, last night submitted his report to Council on the square on King street recently re-paved by the contractors, Messrs. Cavillier & Spinks. Mr. Graybill in his report says there were some devia-tions from the specifications in the contract, a part of the concrete base at the east end of the square having been laid on the original cobblestones and a part of the earth foundation, he says, was not rolled. The roller did not have the specified weight, nor did the natural coment used have the required tensile strength. Nevertheless, the engineer says, the test shows that the cement used is of good quality, the brand being well known and in general use. After specifying some minor variations from the specifications, Mr. Graybill says he does not consider the violations vital, nor that they will lessen the value of the work in any considerable degree. He therefore recommends that Carrell second the work and that that Council accept the work and that he be authorized to certify to it. The Common Council accepted the report.

STILL LOOKING FOR A SITE.—Mr. Augustus Dean, who has had so much difficulty in securing a site on which to continue his boatbuilding and repairing operations, has at last appealed to Council to lease to him for ten years half a square of ground on the south side of Montgomery street, east of the W. & O. tracks. Mr. Dean, it will be remembered, endeavored to utilize some portions of the river below Wilkes street for his purposes, but although the spots have been for years as desolate as when Captain John Smith sailed up the Potomac the owners for reasons best known to themselves re-
